Long ago there was a boy named Daniel. Daniel was a shepherd.

Daniel sat under a big leafy tree and watched the sheep as they grazed peacefully.

Daniel was not able to answer the farmer. He was too busy laughing at his trick!

The farmers and his son were even angrier than the rest.

The next afternoon, Daniel was back under the big, leafy tree watching the sheep graze.

He decided to play a trick on the villagers. Maybe that would help pass the time.

He was delighted that they had fallen for his trick and raced up the again!

Daniel ran back up the hill and discovered that they wolf had chased the sheep away.

Daniel shivered from head to toe in fright.

Surely none of the villagers would help him to find the sheep after his trick.

The farmer and his son slammed their hoes into the dirt and did not look up.

When they reached the top of the hill, they did not see a wolf.

When the people in the village stopped what they were doing.

At the end of the day, the people in the village wondered why Daniel hadn’t returned with the sheep.

The villagers had already been fooled twice by his trick. They would not be fooled again.

Maybe something exciting would happen to take his mind off his boredom.

Daniel was not able to answer the farmer. He was too busy laughing at his trick!

“When a person is not honest,” the farmer replied, “he loses the trust of others.

Daniel ran and shouted all the way to the bottom of the hill.

The people from the village were even more shocked and angry than before.

Sitting alone on the hill each day was boring for the boy.

The farmers and his son slammed their hoes into the dirt and did not look up.

When they reached the top of the hill, they did not see a wolf.

Maybe something exciting would happen to take his mind off his boredom.

Daniel was not able to answer the farmer. He was too busy laughing at his trick!

Daniel ran back up the hill and discovered that they wolf had chased the sheep away.

“There really was a wolf this time,” Daniel said with great sadness.

Daniel sat under a big leafy tree and watched the sheep as they grazed peacefully.

He was delighted that they had fallen for his trick and raced up the again!

The farmer and his son slammed their hoes into the dirt and did not look up.

Once again, the people in the village stopped what they were doing.

At the end of the day, the people in the village wondered why Daniel hadn’t returned with the sheep.

The villagers had already been fooled twice by his trick. They would not be fooled again.

When they reached the top of the hill, they did not see a wolf.

Daniel was not able to answer the farmer. He was too busy laughing at his trick!

Daniel ran and shouted all the way to the bottom of the hill.

The people from the village were even more shocked and angry than before.

Sitting alone on the hill each day was boring for the boy.
Roll and Read (Green)

| | | | | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julia had just moved in down the street.</td>
<td>I have to call the gardener about the new bushes.</td>
<td>Sarah ran to Julia’s house and rang the doorbell.</td>
<td>Sarah’s mom cam into the kitchen as they were washing the bowls.</td>
<td>“Try some,” Sarah said, as she took a handful of berries.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julia smiled with excitement. “If my mom says it’s OK, I’ll be right over!”</td>
<td>There is lemonade for you when you come in.</td>
<td>Julia came to the door, and Sarah motioned for her to come outside.</td>
<td>“Girls, are you ready to make a blueberry cake? It’s Sarah’s favorite dessert.”</td>
<td>The two friends sat on the porch and talked about their summer plans.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They ran inside. “Let’s have our lemonade,” Sarah said.</td>
<td>Later, we’ll bake a special treat.</td>
<td>Sarah and Julia dashed outside. At last they were running through the cold spray.</td>
<td>We’ll make blueberry cake the next time that Julia visits!</td>
<td>Suddenly, Sarah asked, “Are you hungry, Julia? I am! Let’s change and get something to eat.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Shouldn’t we ask your mom first?” Julia asked.</td>
<td>It was a warm summer day, and the sky was clear and blue.</td>
<td>After playing awhile, the girls shivered and grabbed their towels.</td>
<td>I was look forward to baking with you and Julia. I hope you learned an important lesson.</td>
<td>A few minutes later, Sarah’s screen door slammed shut. Julia had arrived.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>But Sarah chose not to ask her mom. She washed the berries and put them in a bowl.</td>
<td>Sarah thought it was a perfect day to ask her new friend, Julia to play.</td>
<td>In the kitchen, Julia was shocked to see her friend take a carton of blueberries from the refrigerator.</td>
<td>Julia took a handful. Within a few minutes the girls had eaten every berry in the bowl.</td>
<td>“Girls, play outside awhile&lt;” said Sarah’s mom.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

If you roll a 6, choose 1 block to read.

* Use with "A Day’s Work” 3.2.2
Roll and Read (Blue)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1</th>
<th>2</th>
<th>3</th>
<th>4</th>
<th>5</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tabitha looked up to see Zoe frantically waving her hands.</td>
<td>Before she knew it, Tabitha had told her mom the whole story of seeing Abbey take the money.</td>
<td>Abbey had stopped crying. She looked up, smiled, and nodded her head in agreement with what Tabitha had said.</td>
<td>She had a difficult time speaking, and all she could manage were squeaks.</td>
<td>Slowly, the group became quiet. Zoe looking puzzled, ask, “What do you mean, Tabitha?”</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When she arrived home, Tabitha could hear Bounce scratching at the door.</td>
<td>“It’s true that what Abbey did is wrong. Do you have any idea why she may have done it?”</td>
<td>By the time they arrived at the back sale, a line had already formed to buy cookies and muffins.</td>
<td>All the hands shot up immediately. Everyone was in favor of the idea.</td>
<td>Tabitha looked at Abbey, and Abbey nervously pulled the two dollars from her pocket.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tabitha picked up her beagle puppy and snuggled against his soft fur.</td>
<td>Tabitha felt more confident now. Tomorrow, she decided, she would talk to Abbey.</td>
<td>Zoe had been at the bake sale for a while before Tabitha and Abbey arrived.</td>
<td>This time, their hands were raised even higher. They were ready to celebrate their trip.</td>
<td>The two girls set off down the street toward their school.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>When she finally got in through the door, Bounce was wriggling with excitement.</td>
<td>Abbey stopped walking and looked down at the ground.</td>
<td>They both knew it was time to say something.</td>
<td>As the circle of friends gathered around Abbey, Tabitha smiled with relief.</td>
<td>Tabitha was shocked, saddened, and relieved all at the same time.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Her mom listened quietly. Then she sighed and smiled.</td>
<td>Finally, Abbey breathed a long sigh, and Tabitha could see that she was crying.</td>
<td>The two girls moved toward Zoe and the moneybox.</td>
<td>Now Zoe was rapping on the table with a pencil.</td>
<td>Tabitha steered Abbey down to the other end of the table.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* Use with "A Day’s Work” 3.2.2
If you roll a 6, choose 1 block to read.